JSHAO UPDATE

One thing that the first lockdown taught us was that we all needed to adapt to new ways of working; JSHAO swiftly moved all civilian housing briefs to online delivery, to continue supporting you regarding civilian housing.

Whilst it is disappointing to be going into another lockdown, for those making the move into Civilian Housing, the housing secretary has announced the housing market will remain open allowing you to still move home.

Currently the market looks positive. The recent Stamp duty freeze (up to £500k) has caused an influx of buyers, sellers, and investors. Additionally, the rental market has been busy, with many tenants hoping to secure properties; demand is high.

For all the latest guidance regarding moving home visit <https://www.gov.uk/guidance/new-national-restrictions-from-5-november#moving-home>.

Details of all planned Housing Options briefs and JSHAO contact details can be found below. JSHAO remain available to assist you in providing you with all the information you need in preparation of transitioning into Civilian Housing.
